We saw Michael Goonan's report and Stacey Hampton crumble in front of our eyes at the final dinner MAFS of 2020 when accusations of explosive coffin were made. Now Michael is asking for a reconciliation of sorts with his former bride, reaching with an olive branch on Instagram. The former spouse MAFS posted a photo on his Instagram stories of himself and Stacey, claiming that he was "remembering when [they] were friends" and wanted "publicly" to ask to be friends again. Michael contacted his ex-wife Stacey on Instagram. (Instagram)The Instagram story that got MAFS fans discussing a potential meeting between the fire couple came after Michael's breakup with another MAFS participant, KC Osborne, again in July. "He sold me that dream. "I would stop my playboy having a girl like you, you're a good girl," KC said. "You must remember you too, I felt really rejected and here I was with this guy who told me everything I'd ever dreamed of hearing. "But the rumors that Stacey and Michael could be gathered were quickly put to bed after Stacey responded to the growing murmur on his social media account, saying that he would not consider coupling with his former spouse. Stacey's response to the public olive branch clarified their relationship. (Instagram) Responding to a question that had been submitted to her on Instagram regarding whether the couple might come back together, Stacey temente denied her interest, saying that there will be "no more Michaels" for her, and that her next report "will be the last". In another story of Instagram, the former participant MAFS added that while she is no longer interested in Michael, and that now she has another girl, the couple is "civil" after their hit on the screen, and they clearly put the past behind them. Stacey claims she's no longer interested in dating Michael. (Instagram)After the bombshell barter statements were leveled in Stacey when the 2020 MAFS season aired, the bride became a fan target who asked to take a lie detector test to prove that she had been loyal to Michael, despite another participant, Mikey Pembroke, claiming that she had slept with her during the shooting was on break. Mikey confirmed he had a few drinks with Aleks and Ivan before "one thing led to another." "We had a one-night break. That was all," Mikey said. "There was no exit after the show. There were no dates. There was some attraction there, but it was very physical and that was. Stacey en Michael deden mee aan het zevende seizoen van Married a First Sight Australia.
